CULINARY ARTS: FARM TO TABLE

Think globally, but eat locally! In recent years, California cuisine has grown in prominence, due in no small part to our embrace of locally grown produce. During this session of Culinary Arts, we embrace Farm to Table as we use fresh seasonal produce to make the most amazing Kosher-style recipes. We will guide students through this gastronomical adventure by exploring a variety of fruits and veggies while using different cooking methods to put together the most delicious and flavorful recipes that they then can taste in class. At the end of the session, Jr. Chefs will get their own Farm to Table cookbooks that include all the recipes, ingredients and techniques they mastered in class so they can make, take and bake their own meals at home!
